One of CPG Consultants' projects, Khoo Teck Puat Hospital, has been mentioned in The Straits Times.

It was reported that Khoo Teck Puat Hospital (KTPH) is unlike other hospitals in Singapore. Costing $450-million, the hospital at Yishun is cleverly designed and has plenty of lush greenery. KTPH is also eco-friendly with solar panels on the roof that heat water for its use, and louvers on the façade that keep out direct sunlight and channel the breeze inside.
